BY WILLIAM PEET.

The Tigers, taking advantage of Mr. "Gaby" Street's enforced illness, again kept on even terms with the Athletics by grabbing all the runs at our little baseball party yesterday afternoon. Score, 5 to 0.

Cliff Blankenship hopped around behind the bat for seven innings like a G. A. R. veteran trying to pull off a flying tackle, until Joe Cantillon trotted out Willing Warden Wade Kilgus, commonly known as "Red." His Redship paired off with Charley Smith at the opening of the eighth, and after shooting the ball to center field on his first attempt, convinced the bugs that his throwing arm was O. K., and really did a good job for two seasons.

Killifer Full of Pepper.
It is hard to say just what would have happened had Killifer started the game. Blankenship, owing to a finger the size of a policeman's billy, couldn't throw the ball farther than the pitcher's box, while Red displayed so much pep that he might have wrecked the center field fence.

The game might have gone into extra innings had "Gaby" Street been posted behind the bat—that is, providing he killed off all the Tigers who sneaked away from Blank. As a matter of fact, Detroit did not earn a single one of the five little chalk marks.

To offset this and give Hughie Jennings all that's coming to him, it must be said in a spirit of fairness that "Wild Bill" Donovan allowed our boys only six hits and was never in very serious trouble, although in the third and fifth stanzas a little wrecking might have been done with the necessary swats, but Cantillon's timely sweat artists had a day off on that day.

Bush Draws Four Bad Ones.
Bush collected four balls as an opener in Detroit's first and Jones blasted a single to left, sending Bush to third. Cobb hit to Schaefer and Jones was nailed at second, but home came Bush on the out. Ty a minute later stole second and started for home on Crawford's slow grounder to Schaefer. Unglaub made perfect throw to Blank and Cobb was caught ten feet from the plate, but he slid into Blankenship and the ball went hopping out of the catcher's mangled hand almost into right field. The run counted.

In the fifth Donovan ripped a single into left, was forced out at second on Bush's choice, the latter stealing on the next pitch. Jones fled to Lovell, but Cobb slugged safely to left and Bush scampered home.

In Detroit's seventh a beautiful exhibition of bum tossing to second by Blank, two bases on balls, and three safe smacks in a row added two more runs to the opposition's three, placing the final figures at five.

The same teams met in the final game of the series at 4 o'clock to-day, and either Gray or Groom will chuck the leather for us 'uns, while Willette, if he comes in turn, will have 'em over for the foe. "Gaby" Street is slated to do the catching, providing he is able to get around without the aid of a crutch.

NOTES OF THE GAME.
Due to win to-day.
Glad to have Street back.
First game in some time where Lell-vett failed to tear off a hit.
Schaefer has yet to make his first hit as a National. Perhaps he will crack out two to-day.
Killifer should have had a hit in the eighth. Umpire Kern was way off on his decision at first.
Oberlin, although hit hard, would have made a better show than with a flawless catcher behind the bat.
Blankenship made a peach of a catch in the fourth, when he nailed Delehanty's fly close to the grand stand.
Schaefer was there with that quick thinking stuff when he snapped the ball to McGraw ahead of Delehanty in the second. Morality being doubled up at first.

The Tigers will have to do some all-hustling to catch the 7 o'clock train out of Washington to-night. They are scheduled to meet Chicago in Detroit Sunday afternoon.

The report that Bill Burns had jumped is about as true as the Mike Thompson snoring yarn, as all fell for yesterday morning. Burns has been in town for three days, but left last night to join the White Sox in New York.

STREET TO CATCH TO-DAY.

Manager Cantillon received word from Catcher Street yesterday morning that "Gaby" would be on hand to-day to go behind the bat. As Street's sore heel will not interfere with his throwing arm, it is hoped that the wholesale pilfering of sacks by the Tigers will be summarily checked.

Double plays—Morality to Kilgus, Schaefer to McGraw to Unglaub. Hit by pitcher—By Oberlin, 1; Umpire—Messrs. Kern and Egan. Time of game—1 hour and 35 minutes. Attendance—2,085.

Pittsburg, Aug. 13.—After fighting hard through eleven innings Philadelphia practically gave to-day's game to the Pirates in the twelfth inning, after remarkable fielding exhibitions on both sides.

Three times, following the close of the ninth, it seemed certain the Phillies would score, but each time they failed to give sufficient finger to the ball.

In nine out of twelve innings only three men faced McQuillen, while Philadelphia successfully had the bases filled. The final slaughter came in the twelfth, when a single by Clarke, a bad throw by Doolin, and a wild pitch by McQuillen allowed the locals to tally. Score:

CUBS DROP ANOTHER.
New York Giants Make It Three Straight from Chicago.
Chicago, Aug. 13.—The Giants in their specialty of raising havoc with the Cubs' pennant prospects cut in with some ball playing which was too strong and fast for the three-time champions of the National League. The powerful hitting which the Giants have developed lately ran up a big lead for them at the start of the game, and they won without ever being seriously pushed.

They have now won eight straight games. The New Yorkers compressed their hits into two innings of scoring, and had Chicago's pitchers chasing in and out of the box in a procession, four being used. Score:
